INTIMATIONS.

The Daily Press, September 17th, 1890.

This recent great rise in exchange, gratifying as it is from many points of view, is far from being an unmixed blessing in its immediate effects. It would be soon from our late telegrams yesterday that a meeting of import merchants had been held at Calcutta to discuss the present state of the trade, which the "Chairman" described as a critical. Buyers who entered into contracts in the early part of the year now stand to make very heavy losses. The question is whether the import merchants should combine together to assist the "buyers" tide over these losses. A similar question has arisen at Yokohama, where, as is usual in polemics in that Settlement, it has led to a plentiful use of strong language. The Japanese buyers asked for an allowance on the contract prices, whereupon they were denounced as dishonest for wishing to evade their liabilities. We have not heard that the question has as yet arisen either in Hongkong or Shanghai, and the probabilities are that the import merchants here will not be called upon to consider it. With the Chinaman a bargain is a bargain, and if he cannot protect himself by the regular custom of the trade, he will as a rule either carry out his contract or "break" fully recognising the principle of "caveat emptor." If, however, the crisis were likely to lead to a large crop of bankruptcies it might possibly pay the import merchants to extend some assistance to their customers.

The British gun-boat "Lynx," Commander Tindall, returned to Shanghai on the 12th inst. from Fusan, Korea.

During the week ended the 14th September there were 2,249 visitors to the City Hall, 1,616 of whom were Europeans.

On Monday forenoon a little boy, the son of a bazaar at West Point, accidentally fell into the water while playing and drowned.

We note that the "Marina" has left her anchorage of Kowloon and has moved eastward. She may now be nearly opposite Blue Building.

The Agents (Moses, Stevenson & Co.) inform us that the D. R. steamer "Polyphemus" from Hamburg, left Singapore for this port yesterday at noon.

The Mercury learns from Hainan that the Chinese Consul at Hainan, Kuan, is absent at that port. She will probably have to come down to Shanghai for repairs.

It will be seen from the advertisement in another column that at the meeting of the British Club to-morrow there will be some business of particular interest to the men playing cards.

The British surveying vessel "Rambler" was to leave Shanghai on Saturday to continue her surveying duties. She will then (says the Daily News) proceed to Hongkong to pay off and be recommissioned.

As a constable was employed in earth cutting near New Street yesterday, a large crowd fell on him and his mate, who were digging a trench, when a Chinese policeman, who was on the spot, came to the rescue. The constable, however, did not seem to be injured.
